Central Railroad of New Jersey and Northern Pacific Reach New High Level. '

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, August 4.—The Stock
Exchange had quite a lively hour following the opening to-day, and the market showed more consistency and strength during that period than at any time during the week. With the subsidence of during the week. With the subsidence of the early active demand a drooping tendency in the standard stocks became observable. The heaviness had no more acceptant that the did the early strength. The active buying of the first hour was professedly based on growing the first hour was professedly based on growing the first hour was professed to the wind crows and it was strength. The active buying of the first hour was professedly based on growing sonfidence in the krain crops, and it was sought to convey the impression that information was available to the buyers on this subject through the arrangements for securing supplies by the great cereal-producing companies.

Record prices for Central Railroad of New Jersey and for Northern Pacific, with the exception of prices touched during the corner in the latter stock, were the consequence. American Smelting was another stock to touch a new high record price. A number of minor stocks made their first appearance on the tape for months to be moved upward, with a dash on light transactions. The coalers and the Southern group rested after their previous advance.

The early strength in Union Pacific was explainable by the reports of net early ings for that system and for Southern Pacific for June, showing an increase over the preceding June, which reached nearly a million dollars for the two systems. The check to the buying which showed in the latter market may have been done to consideration of the bank statement forecast. It was notable, however, that an ender tone was reported in the market for time loans and for call loans there was hardly demand for what was offered. The irregular tone of the latter market continued up to the closing.
